www.omatter.com

RELEASED NOVEMBER 2011

Brainy meets sassy in Oakley IRREVERENT®, a faux semi-rimless with bold attitude. The large cat-eye shape lens will appeal to both the rocket scientist and the fashionista alike. With awesome color and pattern choices, this sister to DISGUISE® sunglasses is girly, geeky and cheeky.

Constructed of lightweight, stress-resistant acetate, these durable frames hold up beautifully to daily wear. A layer cutout at the hinge adds an artsy pop of contrast.

IRREVERENT has a heat adjustable body and bent ear stems to ensure a super comfortable fit that won't slow you down. They come with their very own collection-specific microbag which may just gather a little dust, because this is the pair you'll always want to wear.
