The look of Oakley COIN™ is on the money, and it's Titanium construction provides an ultra-lightweight and durable frame. The sculptural cutaway in each earstem adds even more flexibility for a fit that feels supreme. When we coined this new original, we made sure it had a wealth of technology, and that includes UNOBTAINIUM® earsocks that actually increase grip when you perspire.

This legal tender of style is best matched with premium Oakley Authentic Prescription Lenses, and a collection-specific case is included.
